ELECTION IN VERMONT.

The Result a Surprise to Both the Parties.

PAGE WILL HAVE 12,000 MAJORITY.

The Falling Off Said to Be Due to the Candidate's Personal Unpopularity—Democrats Make Enormous Gains in the State Legislature—The Prohibition Vote—Speaker Reed Addresses an Audience at Boston—Kansas Republicans.

MONTPELIER, Vt., Sept. 4.—The result of the state election in Vermont was a genuine surprise, and it is safe to say that the Democrats were much more astonished than their political antagonists. Returns in Vermont come in slowly, and it is not possible to give the result with exactness, but it will not be far from 12,000 majority for Carroll S. Page, of Hyde Park. This is a shrinkage from 1888 of 16,000 and from 1886 of 6,000, when Ormsbee received until then the smallest majority. The falling off is due to the personal unpopularity of the Republican candidate and the dislike of the voters of this "old-fashioned state" to the practical politics which Mr. Page used extensively in securing the nomination against M. M. Woodbury, of Burlington. There can be no doubt that the voters resented his action in passing far beyond the duties of a governor in every section of the state.

Big Democratic Gains.
The Democrats gained enormously in the legislature. Towns which have always been impenetrably Republican this year sent Democrats to the lower house. There will be over fifty Democrats in the legislature which will meet here next month. There were only fifteen in 1888, and the average has been nearer fifteen than thirty. Ludlow and Poulitney send Democrats for the first time since the towns were settled, while Rutland, Brattleboro, Bellows Falls, Bennington, Marlboro, Danby and Calais send Democrats, much to their own and everybody else's surprise.

The Prohibition Vote.
The Prohibition vote cut but a slim figure. In the towns heard from the vote has fallen off 150 from that of 1888. The question of liquor did not affect the vote for governor, but it apparently did have a weight in the choosing of the representatives, as is evident by the election of a large number of Republicans who are professedly high license men. It is thought that enough Democrats and anti-prohibition Republicans have been elected to constitute a majority in the next house, but as the senate is almost solidly against a change in the law their efforts will be of no avail beyond showing the desire of a large number of the people of the state to get rid of the present statute which has become painfully inoperative.

Reed Speaks at Boston.
BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 4.—Speaker Thomas B. Reed, of the national house of representatives, who is on his way to Maine to participate in the political campaign in that state, addressed a large audience Wednesday night at Faneuil Hall. Hon. John A. Lane, president of the Boston Merchants' association, presided. Speaker Reed defended the policy of the Republicans in the house of representatives, scored the Democrats, and pointed out what he declared were the services of the party in the direction of pension and currency legislation. The Hon. H. C. Lodge spoke briefly after Mr. Reed had finished.

Kansas Republican Ticket.
TOPEKA, Kan., Sept. 4.—The Republican state convention Wednesday night made these nominations: A. H. Horton, chief justice of the supreme court; L. H. Hays, governor; William Higgins, secretary of state; A. F. Peck, lieutenant governor; L. B. Kellogg, attorney general; and C. W. Winans, superintendent of public instruction. These were all re-nominations and were made by acclamation. A nomination for treasurer was not reached before the recess.

Iowa Prohibitionists.
DES MOINES, Iowa, Sept. 4.—The state Prohibition convention opened here Thursday with full attendance of delegates from the various congressional districts. It is proposed to nominate a full slate of tickets, to place candidates in nomination in every congressional district and to issue an address to the voters of the state.

Blaine Attends a Fair.
BANGOR, Me., Sept. 4.—Secretary Blaine with Governor Burleigh and staff attended the eastern Maine state fair Wednesday. Over 25,000 persons were in attendance.

The Irish Land Question.
LONDON, Sept. 4.—A company formed here two years ago, which has just gone into operation, promises not only to have an important effect in the settlement of the Irish land question, but to shape to some extent the future of Ireland. It has at its disposal a capital of £100,000, with which it proposes to buy Irish estates and resell them to tenants. In this securing a change of owners from the absentee landlords to those in actual possession is a long step in advance will have been taken.

An Ovation to Count Molke.
BERLIN, Sept. 4.—The preparations for a national celebration to Count von Molke on the occasion of the 90th anniversary of his birth include the proposal to buy the house in Parchim in which the count was born, and to present it to him. The count is endeavoring to prevent the execution of this plan. Nevertheless the committee of members of the reichstag which was recently formed are determined to carry out the project.

Arbitration of the Brick Boycott.
NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—By invitation of the state board of mediation and arbitration the board of walking delegates of the building trades met the former Wednesday night and agreed to submit the question of the brick boycott. A similar invitation was sent to the Manufacturers association, who replied that the matter would be submitted to their next meeting.

Murdered Her Offspring.
FLINT, Mich., Sept. 4.—The body of a child has been found in the river here, and, suspicion pointing to Carrie McCann, she was arrested, and later she confessed and said that Albert Kimmerer forced her to commit the murder, telling her he would have nothing more to do with her if she kept the child.

THE NEW YORK CENSUS.

Superintendent Porter Says There Is No Reason for a Recount.

WASHINGTON CITY, Sept. 4.—Concerning the resolution adopted by the New York board of aldermen relative to the population of that city under the recent enumeration, and demanding a recount, Superintendent of Census Porter said in an interview that there is no reason whatever for ordering a recount in that city. On the contrary, all the collateral evidence serves to corroborate the accuracy of the enumeration. The official returns from the state of New Jersey when published will probably give an explanation of the fact that the population of New York did not increase during the last decade as rapidly as some anticipated it would.

Politics Cut No Figure.
As the business of the city has encroached upon the residence quarters, the residents have found homes in what might almost be called suburban towns adjacent to New York in New Jersey. From the already crowded city the census office there is every reason to believe that the results of the New Jersey census will in a large measure explain the apparently small increase in New York city. An increase of nearly 28 per cent. in Brooklyn also means that a large number of people who carry on business in New York have sought homes in Brooklyn. Mr. Porter denies the charge that politics had anything to do with the work of making up the census in New York.

ROMANISM AND THE MASSES.

A Movement to Identify That Church with Their Improvement.

LONDON, Sept. 4.—The movement of an international character to identify Roman Catholicism with the improvement of the condition of the masses is making rapid progress, and attracts increased attention. A number of the young Roman Catholic leaders in France, Switzerland, Germany, and Austria have just visited Rome and secured the adhesion of a large party at the Vatican. The younger members of the clergy are practically unanimous in their approval of the movement, which seeks to remedy the ills of the social system by inculcating the Christian doctrine of mutual love and forbearance, and would involve in practice the voluntary relinquishment by the employing classes, in various instances, of advantages now considered legitimate sources of profit. Persons outside the church regard the scheme as visionary. The pope is spending several hours each day in the study of Socialist books and leaflets, with a view to embodying his conclusions in a forthcoming encyclical.

SUFFOCATED IN A WELL.

Three Men Lost Their Lives at West New Brighton, S. I.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—About 4 o'clock Thursday morning John Dillon, a laborer, went down into a well which he had been engaged to clean on the property of Kate Dillon, Henderson avenue, West New Brighton, S. I. After his being down a short time and it being noticed he had stopped work, Thomas Sheehan climbed down to see what was the matter with Dillon. When nearing the bottom of the well Sheehan was seen by the onlookers to throw up his hands and fall heavily to the bottom. A man named Fleming then volunteered to go down and rescue the two men. He did so, but the way down had only gone a little way when he gave a cry, threw up his hands and fell to the bottom. After some difficulty and no little danger ropes and hooks were secured and the head bodies of the three men were pulled to the surface, all three having been asphyxiated by foul gases. The well is twenty feet deep.

Science and the Guillotine.

PARIS, Sept. 4.—Jacques Constant, who was sentenced to death at the Voges court as a murderer and robber, was guillotined Wednesday at Epinal. Within one minute after the knife had fallen the body was handed over to Dr. Grey, professor of physiology of the faculty of Paris, and Dr. Coururier, who awaited the arrival of the body in a room close to the scene of execution. Dr. Grey stated that he was able to observe the heart beating for six minutes after he had received the body, his experiments proving that the contractions of the ventricles and auricles are independent of each other. This is the first time in the history of science that such an experiment has been made on a human body.

The Question of Apprentices.

BOSTON, Sept. 4.—At the second day's session of the United Typothetae Wednesday Mr. Pettibone, of Chicago, for the committee on apprenticeship system, presented a report, which was followed by the revival of the system in some form was strongly urged, on the ground that such revival would tend to make better workmen, do away with the labor troubles and bring in a much better class of men. Wallace, of Philadelphia, presented a protest against the establishment of the apprenticeship system, which was followed by the belief that the system was a bad number and that a substitute for it would be found in the mechanical trade schools.

Killed by a Bolt of Lightning.

DOLAN, S. D., Sept. 4.—Wednesday night at 5 o'clock a big lightning bolt, six miles south of D. L. Smith, while on the strawstack at the thrashing machine, Peter Peterson was instantly killed by a bolt of lightning from an almost clear sky. The stack was about fifteen feet high. As the bolt struck the stack a flame ascended six feet and it left a hole in the top to the bottom of the stack the size of a barrel, with sides as smooth as a wall. Peterson was found dead on the stack with his clothing all torn off.

A Strike on Parnell's Property.

LONDON, Sept. 4.—The quartermen employed on the estate of Parnell struck against the employment of persons objectionable to them as managers and overseers, the ground of objection being that the overseers were strangers and persons of a different creed from the quartermen. It is understood that Parnell will close the quarries should the dispute continue. The Dublin corporation obtains its supply of paving stones from these quarries.

Carpenters Returning to Work.

CHICAGO, Sept. 4.—The carpenters' strike is practically over. The number of idle joiners is less now than at any time during the two weeks previous to the strike. It is estimated that between the old and new bosses there are about 1,500 non-union men employed. The number of union men who are now at work at the union scale of wages of 87½ cents an hour is figured at 4,000. About 1,500 or 2,000 are still idle.

AN ATTACK ON CANNON

Made in the House by Cummings, of New York.

SPEAKER REED ALSO ARRAIGNED.

The Affair the Outgrowth of the Famous "Blacklisting" Resolution by Cannon—The Remarks of Cummings Frequently Interrupted by Kerr and Rowell—The Day's Proceedings in the Senate—A Dispatch to Gen. Barrundia's Widow.

WASHINGTON CITY, Sept. 4.—In the house Thursday senate bill was passed to establish a post of delivery at Sioux City, Iowa. Cummings of New York rising to a question of privilege, protested against his "blacklisting" by the famous Cannon resolution. The gentleman who had offered the resolution had made unjust imputations, and in making these imputations he had falsified the record and blacklisted himself. He then proceeded to make an attack upon Cannon, comparing him to the noted Tinnville of the French revolution. In support of his resolution, the gentleman from Illinois (Cannon) had appealed to the record. The gentleman from Iowa (Henderson) had seconded the gentleman from Illinois, and had used the same language. There had been some sneaking done, as the record indicated. The record showed that the speaker had refused to the house the list of names of the deicides.

The Speaker Arraigned.

Fancy the great chairman of the great committee on appropriations, the successor of Samuel J. Randall, sneaking to the clerk's desk and sneaking surreptitiously a list of members that had been refused to the house, and upon this list basing a false accusation against his fellow members. Was not that an act worthy of Tinnville? He then proceeded to arraign the speaker and the majority of the committee on rules. This majority composed a trifling minority, as power was in the hands of the minority. The gentleman from Iowa (Henderson) had seconded the gentleman from Illinois, and had used the same language. There had been some sneaking done, as the record indicated. The record showed that the speaker had refused to the house the list of names of the deicides.

Frequent Interruptions.

Cummings was frequently interrupted by Kerr, of Iowa, and Rowell, of Illinois, and with the point of order that he was not confining himself to a question of personal privilege. Cummings proceeded with his arraignment of the speaker, but after frequent interruptions asked unanimous consent to print the remainder of his remarks in The Record; but this consent was refused by Kerr and Rowell. Cannon remarked that the gentleman was printing a speech under the false pretense of making a personal explanation.

Cummings—"That pretense is not as false as the pretense by which you smuggled my name into that blacklist." A motion was made by Kerr and Rowell. This interruption was protested against by Blount, of Georgia. Not twenty-four hours ago, said he, a gentleman on the other side was permitted to arraign a senator of the United States.

Cannon—"I call the gentleman to order. Laugh! The gentleman from Georgia can not take the gentleman from New York off the floor."

Blount—"Yesterday a gentleman on the other side was permitted, in violation of the rules of the house, to arraign a senator as a felon and to arraign his colleagues for associating with a felon."

Cannon—"The gentleman from Georgia has no right to state a question of personal privilege during the time of the gentleman from New York."

Blount—"I am not stating a question of personal privilege. But there has been a continued interruption of the gentleman from New York, and an effort to suppress the question of privilege a gentleman was not governed by the hour rule. The speaker pro tem, overruled the point and Bland appealed. Cannon moved to lay the appeal on the table, and on this motion demanded the previous question; but Bland protested that he was entitled to the floor amid applause of the Democratic side. The speaker then yielded Bland's right to the floor. Bland yielded to Cummings; and, notwithstanding a protest from Kerr, the speaker pro tem. recognized the gentleman from New York, who proceeded with his speech."

Senate Proceedings.

The tariff bill was taken up in the senate immediately after the reading of the journal under the agreement limiting discussion on each subject to five minutes for each senator. The presiding officer announced that general debate on the bill had closed with the exception of the reservation of the day when the final vote is to be taken and when three hours' time is to be given to each side. The amendment withdrew the amendment offered by him on Tuesday last and offered another, striking out that schedule and substituting for it the sugar provisions of the Mills bill. The sugar schedule was laid aside informally and the "cotton manufacturers" clause in regard thereto. The matter, you may be assured, will receive most careful attention."

To Gen. Barrundia's Widow.

WASHINGTON CITY, Sept. 4.—Acting Secretary Wharton has sent the following telegram to the widow of Gen. Barrundia in reply to her message to the president Monday evening: "The president desires me to say he has received your telegram announcing the death of your husband, Gen. Barrundia. While deeply sympathizing with you in your affliction, he awaits official details of the occurrence necessary to determine his action in regard thereto. The matter, you may be assured, will receive most careful attention."

A Dispatch from Minister Misner.

WASHINGTON CITY, Sept. 4.—Acting Secretary Wharton has received a dispatch from Minister Misner, at the City of Guatemala, saying that peace would be proclaimed next week, and that the armed forces were rapidly disbanding. The minister makes no allusion to the recent shooting affair, and Mr. Wharton attaches no importance to the episode.

THE MAN OR THE MONEY.

A Former Lover Sued for the Recovery of a Large Loan.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 4.—George Garnet, of Pullman, Ill., has instituted proceedings here against Horace F. Medbury, of this city, to recover some $18,000 which Garnet's sister Louise loaned to Medbury about two years ago. Louise is a pretty girl of less than 21 years, and in July, 1887, she met Medbury at Diamond Lake, Mich., a watering place resort. The families of each were at the hotel for the summer and the courtship extended into the following winter, when Medbury visited Chicago and made known his desire to enter into the wholesale hardware business in that place. It is alleged that at this time he became engaged to Miss Garnet and that the wedding was fixed to take place in a few months. He was given a loan of the $18,000 now claimed by Garnet on behalf of his sister Louise.

Is Willing to Marry Him.

Medbury made a written contract at the time with Miss Garnet, and applied to the family of the arrangement. Instead of remaining in Chicago, however, he went to western Iowa and opened a hotel. He also bought land in Ogden and Salt Lake, Utah, which since has paid him a handsome profit, and made him a wealthy man. In one of the Providence banks $20,000 deposit, and the $18,000 has been attached by the fair plaintiff. Miss Garnet, it is said, is willing to forgive and forget if Medbury, who is still a bachelor, will consent to marry. Otherwise she contends he must pay back her capital with interest.

SALOONS CLOSED AT DEADWOOD.

The Sheriff Took Possession of All the Drinking Places.

DEADWOOD, S. D., Sept. 4.—The prohibition law went into effect in Deadwood, Lead City, and all the mining towns in the Black Hills with vengeance Wednesday, and Deadwood is as dry as the Sahara desert. It is impossible to obtain a drink of liquor in the town. The saloons men have been selling right along ever since the law was passed in open defiance of the prohibition sentiment and have boasted that the prohibitionists were afraid to attempt to close the saloons. Thirty-eight injunctions were served on as many saloons Wednesday, the doors closed, the property taken possession of by the sheriff and a notice nailed on the door warning all imbibers that the saloons in possession of the sheriff and not to enter. The bill provides for closing the saloons by injunction and authorizes the sheriff to hold the proprietors in default of termination of the suit. Deadwood gave an overwhelming majority against the law, and intense excitement prevails in the city, and violence is feared as the result.

Boycotting a Big Show.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 4.—Because a few non-union men were employed in putting in the electric light plant at the Pittsburg exposition building, the trades unions are talking of instituting a boycott on the concern. The carpenters have already done so, and it is estimated that a general boycott would result in 40,000 men and their families withholding their patronage, which would be disastrous to the exposition.

The St. Louis Exposition Opened.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 4.—The seventh annual exposition opened Wednesday under the most favorable auspices and with the most important list of exhibits ever seen in its history. Mayor Noonan delivered the opening address. The principal features of the exposition this year are the Colorado state exhibit, electrical display, agricultural and mechanical departments, and the art galleries.

John Westinghouse Dies.

Sullivan Fair.
SULLIVAN, Sept. 4.—About 5,000 people attended the fair to-day. It was the largest crowd that has gathered in the fair grounds for several years past. The stock exhibited was good and all awards made were satisfactory.

A mile race, trotting and running races occupied the greater part of the afternoon. So far the fair has proved to be a success financially, and all premiums will be paid in full.

The dust was intolerable to-day, and was the cause of considerable annoyance. There has been one drawback to the fair and that has been the scarcity of water. Farmers had to go up town to water their horses.

Business was at a stand still in the city, every one turning out to the fair. Not a single arrest has been made so far for anything.

THE SCHOOL TEACHERS.

Who They Are and What Their Positions Will Be.

The assignment of teachers made in the public schools for the coming year is given below. It is likely that some changes in positions may be made before the opening next Monday. Miss Durfee will be principal of the Wood and Church street schools, while the two ladies whose names are mentioned first under the headings of those schools will teach the seventh grades. In the case of the other schools the principal's name is given first, followed by the teachers of the other grades, in order, going down to first.

REVIEW POSTOFFICE.

How to Mark Street Cars.

Mr. Editor—I have an idea. For a long time I have had difficulty in finding out what car I wanted to take. Some of the cars have their streets on the side, but that doesn't do much good because I can not see what is on the side until the car is up to me, and then it is too late to stop it. Now my idea is to have a flag put on the trolley rope just under the trolley. If the car is a Condit street car, a yellow flag; if a North Water street car, a green flag; if an Edward street car, a white flag; and if a depot car, a red flag. Then any one could see the flag as far as he could see the car and would know whether that was the car he wanted or not. If a car should be run on another line temporarily, it would be no trouble to change the flags. If I have a friend to whom I can tell him to take a car with a yellow flag, and so things will be simplified in every way.

Want The Street Sweeper.

Mr. Editor—Where is the street sweeper? We haven't seen it on West Main street for some time and would like it. It is needed on this street. WEST MAIN.

Cerro Gordo.

School opened Monday.

Scarletina is the latest disease among children here.

E. A. Barwell attended the Old Settlers' picnic at Decatur Tuesday.

Clark Briggs, of Cisco, began his winter term of school at the Starr Monday.

Ed Vester, of Walling, Kan., is here visiting his sister, Mrs. Burton.

A little son of Sol Shively is very sick, he having injured himself by jumping from a hay mow.

Arty Booker has gone to Indiana to spend the winter with his uncle, and attend school at Greencastle.

W. R. Humphrey, of Covington, Ind., was in town Saturday assisting the republicans in their convention.

Ed Smith, a former Cerro Gordo boy, and present a prominent lawyer and democrat of Chicago, was shaking hands with old friends here Saturday.

SNYDER-WEEMS.

At 10:30 Wednesday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Weems, occurred the marriage of their daughter, Lulu, to Vincent Snyder. Mr. and Mrs. Snyder left at noon for Chicago on their wedding tour.

The bride is the only daughter of Rev. Weems, former pastor of the M. E. church here. The groom is well known here and holds a lucrative position at Scott & Martin's dry goods store. May happiness be theirs.

Reads the Woods.

An exchange calls attention to the fact that the statute makes it the duty of commissioners of highways to have destroyed all noxious weeds growing in public roads. Such weeds as burdock, butter prints, thistles, rag weed, etc., are a positive nuisance, and should never be allowed to go to seed.

A farmer who takes a pride in exterminating all noxious weeds from his cultivated ground is frequently balked in his endeavor by the spread of the seeds of numerous noxious weeds that are permitted by the authorities to grow and mature in our highways.

Married.

Miss Estelle Hardin and John W. Landis were married last night at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Hardin on North Water street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. E. Scrimger in the presence of quite a company of friends and relatives. After congratulations a fine supper was enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Landis will in a few days go to house-keeping in a house already secured.

His Wife was Dead.

What Andrew Rosenberg Found When He Came Home.

Andrew Rosenberg is a wealthy and well known farmer living just inside the Macon county line, north of Moweaqua. Yesterday he arose as usual, leaving his wife in bed, awake he thought, and went out to feed the stock. He was gone three quarters of an hour. When he came back he was surprised to see that his wife was not yet up and no preparations for breakfast had yet been started.

Rather curiously he went to see why she had not arisen. Apparently she was lying just as he had left her. Still, not suspecting anything unusual, he spoke to her. Receiving no reply he touched her. Then he found his wife was dead, though the body was yet warm.

Mrs. Rosenberg was about 45 years old and was well and strong, perfectly healthy, having scarcely known a sick day. So far as her friends know she was in her usual health when she retired Wednesday night. Mrs. Rosenberg leaves besides her husband, three or four children, all nearly grown.

Dalton City.

H. L. Grounds lost a very valuable horse last Friday.

Phil Snyder and wife visited friends in Decatur Sunday.

Our village school opened Monday with an enrollment of 87.

Verther Wassner and wife will move near Hammond next week.

James Mayes is dishing out pills at Hill-goss & Burns' drug store.

Miss Lizzie Henneberry will commence school at the King, Sept. 8.

Miss Ella Nolan commenced school Monday at the Nolan school house.

Henry Uppendahl and wife visited Dr. Nicholson at Macon, Sunday.

James Berry and H. L. Grounds are in Sullivan this week at the fair.

Dr. Gage reports a fine baby at Harve Vest's, of the female persuasion.

Rufus Luttrell and wife, of Humboldt, are visiting at James Nolan's this week.

Miss Maggie Dalton, of Shelbyville, visited her many friends here last week.

A very pleasant euchre party was given by Mrs. James Berry on last Tuesday evening.

Mrs. A. S. Clark started to Kansas yesterday. She will visit her sister there a couple of months.

Mrs. W. A. Webb and son, Herschel, returned Tuesday from Philadelphia, where they stopped the summer.

B. D. Oakes purchased the harness shop of Harmon Munka. He will take possession in about two weeks.

John Garrett and his hands returned Monday from Olney. They have abandoned the shelter until corn takes another raise. Sept. 4.

A Bad Runaway.

ARTHUR, Sept. 4.—While Aunt Polly Dilline and Mrs. Biglow were driving across the T. H. & P. track Wednesday about 7:30 p. m., their horse got scared at a freight train which was standing on the track near the crossing. The horse gave a surge and one tug came loose, giving the buggy a side draft. The horse plunged down Main street at furious speed turning at Church street and upsetting the buggy and throwing it into the gutter. The horse dashed into a spring wagon, smashing the buggy into kindling wood. The horse tore loose from the buggy and ran for a quarter of a mile before it was stopped.

Mrs. Dilline was picked up unconscious while Mrs. Biglow was almost strangled. Mrs. Dilline rested very well last night and is feeling very well this morning, but is considerably bruised, however not seriously. How one or both of them were prevented from being killed is a miracle. Mrs. Dilline is 70 years old.

All Are Jewels.

Hamlin's farce comedy company presenting "The Fakir" boasts no less than five comic opera prima donnas, and numbers 20 persons. Refined specialties will be introduced. To The Readers

And Especially the

LADY READER

OF THE REVIEW.

The manufacturers of "TRIPURE" Baking Powder in making their bow to the public desire to frankly state a few important facts:

First—This powder has been adopted and endorsed by the Wholesale Grocers' National association as the best pure cream of tartar Baking Powder made.

Second—We make no extravagant claims or assertions; the quality of the powder is expressed by the name.

Third—We have no words of condemnation for other powders; there are some powders in the market which are very good, there are far more that are poisonous; we know ours to be pure and of the highest class.

Fourth—Realizing that results alone can prove the merit of any article, we believe that "TRIPURE" Baking Powder, which is an advancement in modern discovery and science, will furnish results for the household never before accomplished, thus proving helpful to the health and "popular with the ladies." We respectfully request for this powder a careful trial and are confident that it will obtain precedence over all others in the homes of the people.

MR. L. L. FERRISS, head of the great Chicago wholesale boot and shoe house of L. L. Ferriss & Co., has just returned to Chicago from the Eastern states, where he devoted a month to visiting the great shoe factories. His long experience in the retail trade here enabled him to judge just what was wanted in Decatur and Macon county. The tremendous advantage which his position as a large Chicago wholesaler gave him, enabled him to buy all the newest styles in the best shoe markets in the world at prices very much below those possible to ordinary retailers. We know we CAN undersell everybody in the shoe trade here.

If you want to know how far WE DO UNDERSELL them you must come to our store and find that you can buy good solid shoes as cheap as you can get shoddy goods for elsewhere.
